Forecast for Wednesday 13 Jul 2022

Weather: Largely dry during the early hours with clear spells at times although a small chance of a light shower remains. Some cloud around during the morning but this breaking to give sunny spells. Staying dry for the remainder of the day and becoming mostly sunny. Higher level cloud may turn the sunshine hazy at times.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 80% becoming 100%.

Low cloud and visibility: Patches of cloud above 700m until mid-morning, then any cloud well above summits. Very poor visibility in the cloud but generally very good visibilities with much clearer air compared to on Tuesday. Distant hills and landmarks will be visible by the afternoon.

Meteorologist's View

Very high levels of UV will give a risk of sunburn. Sun protection and plenty of water is advised if you are planning on spending the day in the mountains.
